Morality vs. Rowdyism.

Mn. Entron-Dear Sir:-It having become a painful lect, that of late our usually quiet town has frequently been the scene of riot and debanchery, much to the annoyance of its cititons, a few words inserted in the columns of known, to the greater portion of the community at least, who the perpetrators of these disturbances are, and some, (under the circumstances) necessarily connected with them, are doubtless subjected to censure in common with others --No applicant will be examined who is not present For this reason, having been unfortunately connected with the affray of last evening, duty to self and fellow members demands a justification of our position. It may be well to state, though Hereafter we shall require that all advertisements known to most, that a school for dancing has be handed in for publication by TUESDAY.
